SEGREGATION

We are proud of our people for giving Mr. Trotter such a magnificent audience Monday evening. We are proud of the splendid representation of intelligence and commercial progress; proud of the close and respectful attention given the speaker; proud of the substantial sum of money raised to further the great cause he pleads.

It was right that we should so honor Mr. Trotter. In so doing, we honored not merely him, but we honored ourselves, in that we endorsed a great principle. It is well that we keep one fact clearly in mind—that is, that segregation is, and can only be, degrading and humiliating.

Webster once said: "In war there are no Sundays." So in moral questions, there are no politics, no creeds, no distinctions. When a great moral question is raised, there is no black, no white. We are all men and women.

All races are one—they are a unit. The white race is part of that unit; the black race is a part. they are one. There is one great, terrible fact in regard to the colored race today: it is that millions are discriminated against in this matter of segregation. There is nothing for the rest of the race—the decent white section of it—to do, but to devote themselves to abolishing this segregation.

Education, progress, are worth nothing else now to the colored man, except as helping that argument. We should be thrifty, industrious, successful, rich, educated, only as an argument that the colored race has a right to a place side by side and equal with the white. We wish we could impress this truth upon every Negro. Our race today is on trial. There are those who say we merit only a lower place in the social scale. The best thing the colored man can do, then, with his life, with his money, with his character, is to throw them into the scale of the argument and make segregation kick the beam.

We refuse to recognize any limitations of rights or race. Equal rights for all! Else, tear up the American Constitution and dissolve the American Republic! Every citizen, black or white, who is liable to be hanged for crime is entitled to vote for rulers, who is responsible to the State has a right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Shall Northern civilization sink to the level of Southern barbarism? Was it nothing that, in the lonely quiet of the plantation, there fell on the untutored body of the slave every torture which hellish ingenuity could devise? Was it nothing that, as husband and father, mother and child, the Negro drained to its dregs all the bitterness that could be pressed into his cup? that, torn with whip and dogs, starved, hunted, tortured, racked, he cried—"How long, O Lord, how long?" Was all this nothing, that there shall be heaped upon us insults and indignities as freemen, not a whit less than those shown us as slaves?

But why this prejudice? Why this discrimination? Why this segregation? The question occasionally has been asked. There never yet has been an answer—there is no answer!

Is it because we were once slaves—for two hundred years or so slaves? Is it?

There is no race on earth that has not been in slavery at one period. This very Saxon blood our white brothers boast, was enslaved for five centuries in Europe. They were slaves—these white Americans!

Then notice this fact. No race, except one, ever won its freedom from slavery by the sword. Only one race in history actually won its freedom by the sword—and that the colored race—and the only instance St. Domingo.

This white race that holds its head so high and treats the colored race so contemptuously, did not win its liberty by the sword. They would be in slavery yet, if their liberty had not been gotten for them! They did not even rise in insurrection, these white slaves.

If, back in those days, when our white brothers were slaves, a black man had landed on their shores, he might well have said: "This white race doesn't deserve freedom, they are just, naturally, menial. They don't deserve recognition, they are naturally inferior. They don't deserve equality of rights, they just naturally ought to be segregated." It will avoid friction. He and I cannot get along side by side.

And the black man saying that about the white man five or six hundred years ago, would have been just as right, just as reasonable, just as logical and as just, as the white man is to day in saying it of the black man.

Well, let us continue to work out our own salvation. Ask no odds, only demand justice! Let us show these haughty, prejudicial brothers of ours what we can do—in education, in industry, in making our mark in the world.

Then we will compel the white man to write our name not at the bottom of the list, with a line between—segregation-fashion—but make them write it on the same marble and in the same line. We will compel them to lift us out of the degradation of a false inferiority and stand us at their side, and be proud to do so.

If true to our heritage and our lineage, we shall yet drag these Negromaniacs at our heels and they shall recognize the black man as a brother and equal!

The lighted generally is free with his cotton.

Presumably reports that it is safe. It should knock on wood.

Some very good men let their whiskers grow as long as they please.

Why not put a megaphone on the foghorn to send the sound where it is welcome?

Evidently it takes more than a war to stop the manufacture of toys in abundance.

Skirts are to be fuller, according to fashion reports. In which case they will have to be wider.

Nobody seems to know whether or not all the Belgian hares emigrated when the Belgians did.

Egypt's throne is going begging. So is the throne of Albania. Thrones are not what they used to be.

Henceforth the world will know that heavy armaments are not created for mere ornamentation.

They who would please everybody must be prepared for a vast amount of disappointment and criticism.

Every new case of a certain kind that gets into court proves again that foolish men write foolish love letters.

Irrespective of what spelling reformers may think, it's better for business to be on the boom than on the bum.

A man out in Washington found gold in his potato patch. There is more gold in potato patches than in most mines.

A naturalist says that elephants sleep only five hours a day, a statement which is unimportant even if it is true.

Perhaps the hardest thing on earth to explain is why one playboy should ever be tempted to steal from another.

A thirty-four-year-old boy who throws a rock into a crowded street car to spite his mother should be spanked.

The original "Little Lord Fauntleroy" has married a lovely young woman. It is possible to live down almost anything.

You never loosen a man's clutch by calling him a tightwad, and it is a violation of law to use dynamite for the purpose.

The German tomatoes are being mobilized to provide for coats for the soldiers. War has some redeeming features, after all.

Whatever may be the condition of affairs in this country there is sure to be a long, hard winter on the other side of the pond.

The American who has to be officially warned not to tour Europe in these days must be a mighty keen hunter for trouble.

The Russian water wagon must have sides like a picket fence to prevent the millions of the czar's subjects from falling off.

Massaging a dead woman's back brought her back to life, but it often takes a stronger balm than that to keep a live one quiet.

Philadelphia has established a roof garden for cats. But Philadelphia isn't the first place where there were cats in a roof garden.

The California train robber who got one dollar of plunder and a five years' sentence has a poor opinion of the law of compensation.

A man is pretty well domesticated when his wife can induce him to cook breakfast and roll the baby on the downtown shopping tour.

Since Germany has adopted Shakespeare for her very own, the Baedeker movement is in for a season of unexampled prosperity in England.

Another thing that excites curiosity is the window washer's habit of washing his window every day or so in winter and scarcely at all in summer.

Why is it that your friend in a military uniform always looks as if he only needed a pith helmet of ice water to make a good-looking bellhop?

You have probably noticed that the genus homo is not generally so concerned about saving his own goat as he is to capture somebody else's.

The correspondent who informed the New York Sun that he could live comfortably on $5,000 a year seems to be a man of unimpeachable veracity.

A prison boarding-house keeper has attached the wooden leg belonging to one of her patrons, although it is a question of how much board she will be able to get out of one leg.

Newfoundland reports a codfish catch of 550,000 quintals below normal and the "sardine" catch of Maine is less than usual. Fortunately there are a great many people who can do without these delicacies without feeling depressed.

Regret in the poorest company one can have.

Most novels end with matrimony. They never go on until wedding.

Experts found $2,280 bad eggs in Chicago, not including the politicians.

Why have they not named one of the new dances the Panama slide? Or have they?

Some women are born to rule and others acquire the prerogative through matrimony.

Our idea of a military strategist is one who can win a battle on paper and get away with it.

Economy is the order of the day. The ladies have even taken to wearing shorter dresses.

The "harrowing" soldier and the "muskrat" soldier are the newest types of fighting men.

Thus far among the charges of war atrocities there has been no allegation of embalmed beef.

After people get tired of hearing a man talk, they would rather be wrong than accept his advice.

You can't judge the girls by their appearance in fashionable clothes. Some of them are really smart.

The old-fashioned boy who had a cowlick now wears his hair pompadour, or parted in the middle.

When a learned reviewer pronounces the financial skies brighter he doesn't mean they are blue.

The odor of gasoline as a sure indication of opulence, has been succeeded by the egg stain on the vest.

After the cruel war is over there ought to be some profitable lead mining in some of those European countries.

The ideal husband and the ideal wife never find each other, perhaps for the reason that ideals, like tastes, differ.

A cooking expert tells how to make carrot patties. It seems almost impossible that any one would wish to make them.

A Chicago sportsman is hunting ducks in an aeroplane. Next thing they will be going after bass with a submarine.

If you are dissatisfied with the world make your part of it better by being the kind of a man or woman you ought to be.

Many a bright college graduate has wished he knew as much as he thought he knew when he entered the freshman year.

Affections that are lost, strayed or stolen always seem to increase in value, like a cow that has been killed by a railway locomotive.

There are men who boast of their success in being able to avoid work, but sculptors are not kept busy carving monuments to their kind.

Some doctors ascribe all human ills to constitutional causes and others say that auto-intoxication is a myth. At any rate, there is such a thing as the joy ride.

A man should not be too strong in insisting on his technical rights. You have a perfect right to wear a red necktie in a field with a bull, but you shouldn't.

A feminist says matrimony is a profession. That being the case, wives who get their advance training at tango less seldom make a success of the profession.

Every user of the telephone ought to be able to sympathize with the fighters of the long drawn-out battle of "holding the line."

Your real optimism always has its faith in human nature tremendously revived by discovering one single man who is willing to listen to his explanation of how things are and ought to be.

A psychical expert declares he has held communications with spirits. But many others have had the same experience by having recourse to much more commonplace methods than psychology.

That Swiss professor who has discovered a powder that will stop the flow of blood has risen nearly to the present emergency; but what is even more needed is somebody to stop the fellows that are making blood flow.

Wireless velocity has been determined at 175,000 miles a second, which speed probably makes the auto speed feel like the 24 miles left in life to discover, and that speeding is as yet in very slow stages of its development.

We shall not venture to assert what the correct temperature is for the rooms in which we mortals go through our daily round of toil. None the less, we shall venture the assertion that there are many houses and offices in this city so hot that the dogs were taken into them they would hatch.

We learn a man's common sense means a woman.

Many heavy men in the light-weight class from his collar up.

Heat expands and cold contracts. Even cold feet never helped business to expand.

One kind of a fool is a man who thinks he is having a good time when he's drunk.

However, no man would be fool enough to plant a ditiograph just to hear his wife talk.

That familiar phrase, "the right man in the right place," sometimes applies to the fellow in jail.

Young women who do the barefoot dancing in the movies do not have to catch cold all the time.

When a man gives you a betting tip, better find out on which side of the same his cash is staked.

One strange thing about the European atrocities is that they always occur in the adjoining country.

Anyway, nobody is offering a free trip to Europe for being the most popular something or other.

We know some people who are so slow that it would be impossible to make a moving picture of them.

One cannot help thinking that the youth who fired the Ephesian dome would have made a fine janitor.

The report that the Germans have a gun that will hurl a 500-pound projectile nine miles is "interesting if true."

If all the women of marriageable age would get married there would be nobody to give married women advice.

There should not be so many fresh people. The United States alone last year produced 33,300,000 barrels of salt.

Better be a booster than a knocker; but, whatever you are, do your boasting and knocking intelligently and fairly.

Odd that the age which has always professed most loudly its hatred of war should kick up the biggest one on record.

There were many ways by which the war might have been averted, but how to stop it is the practical question now.

The experts and the theorists are fixing the time limit of the war. But then they are not the ones who are fighting it.

Instead of the bushel under which some men used to hide their light in a remote age, most of them now get a reflector.

Missouri's embalming board announces that the cost of dying is going down. But it is not believed there will be any rush to take advantage of it.

Well informed orientalist says that chop suey is not really a Chinese dish, but other nations are treating China just as if it were responsible for chop suey.

An Ohio husband expressed his feelings in a forcible manner by shooting at his wife's portrait. Even at that, he was the lap ahead of the man who beats his wife.

One cigar and two cigarettes are allowed each German soldier one day. For the rest of the 24 hours he has to get along with gunpowder smoke as best he can.

One regiment of French soldiers was unable to bathe or change its clothing for 47 days, but the American tramp sees no necessity of going to war for such a privilege.

A woman scientist has invented a machine for the detection of lies. It is called the "spysymonimeter." Wouldn't a spysymonimeter be a good thing for a young lady to have handy when an experienced beau tells her she is the only girl he ever loved?

If available auto fuel to cost only a cent and a half a gallon has been invented, let us all run for cover at once. The number of cars run by clerks and bookkeepers and musicians, small farmers and small mechanical intelligences, will keep all but troublesome pedestrians at home.

Edward Percival Fager, in the Syracuse Herald, suggests in view of the weather conditions in the fighting zone that if they would finish up the war with snowballs it would be much cheaper, more satisfactory in the long run, and a great deal more fun. The idea may be referred to the belligerents for what they think it is worth.

The army has now to pay about twenty dollars more per head for cavalry horses than it did a year ago. The war in Europe caused the increase, by creating a great demand for mounts. The most unpleasant feature of the war is the fact that American farmers generally are not in a situation where they can take advantage of the high prices. They no longer have the colts or two apices in the old way.

The harrowing discovery has been made to England that some natives would rather play football than go to war. And so they are attempting to abolish football, which is a strange character of the modern headlong spirit of reform on the spot.

If you can't be an optimist, be still better a pessimist.

Which way is it to chop that we are wanted to be able to get it.

It runs down (pansies) a gun; you can be excused for butting in; one who not.

One of the fearful results of war is the number of folks already lecturing about it.

Everyone agrees with the war correspondent, saying that much remains to be said.

The map who has hard work to make a living often is an adept at making trouble.

Boys' pig clubs are determined to be as popular and more valuable than the boys' corn clubs.

There are 70,000 drug users in the United States and several million consumers of baseball "dope."

The Belgians who are now living in tents are not doing so because they are fresh-air fiends.

The island of Yap figured once in the press dispatches, and then subsided into its former obscurity.

A careful study of the subject shows that hard times have not seriously impaired the quality of mice pie.

We agree with the man who says there are worse things than skunks. The breath of scandal, for instance.

A Pittsburgh newspaper advocates a "Feed America First" campaign as second best bet to "See America First."

Golf is driving out the tango in New York restaurants. Football would be the participants still better appetites.

Wider skirts for women, eh? Looks as if the make-overs would have to make one skirt grow there two grow before.

Paris fashions are the most necessary as we thought, the most attractive feature of feminine apparel being the woman.

Whether a European army is coming or going seems to depend on the position of the official sending out the bulletins.

It is always a great surprise to the average man to meet an editor personally and find that he seems somewhere near human.

Every once in a while one of those careless European censors passes a statement which admits that his country is at war.

Prospective husbands forced to pay a tax of ten cents for a marriage license should cheer up. Sometimes they are worth it.

Now that a mechanical grave digger has been devised for the war, it has America to almost everything except to save lives.

The department of agriculture says the pink oystercatchers are all right, but, of course, we shall still have to beware of punk ones.

Considering the condition some of the cold storage eggs are in already, it is difficult to conceive how they can become any healthier.

Why should any young man hesitate to get married now that he is assured that revenue stamps are not required on marriage licenses?

Some very good people learn how to operate an auto, but it must bother some of them to find suitable language when a blowout occurs.

There are persons in this country not too much absorbed in war news to notice the fashions, but they are nearly all feminine persons.

Considering some of the explanations offered therein of the causes of the war, the explanation naturally ought to have a comic supplement.

Soldiers on the firing line sleep in their clothing for weeks, but then they have to wear nightgowns and shirts with starched bosoms.

Counting the two ancient ones, Canada sent 10,000,000 dozen of eggs to Europe. The eggs were taken to wake up the Yankee chicken.

An estimable merchant announces that all his life has been cured by an automobile. Naturally, he could fear nothing else thereafter.

German trained dogs that stand at attention on sight of French red uniforms doubtless throw a fit when confronted with a Highland regiment.

Odd eggs are made of English. A man employed by a telephone company to relieve distress is called a "trouble clerk," and the fellow who gathers you to pay up, but never gets a cent, calls himself a collector.

The harrowing discovery has been made to England that some natives would rather play football than go to war. And so they are attempting to abolish football, which is a strange character of the modern headlong spirit of reform on the spot.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear mother, Hannah J. Spurlock, who departed this life January 18, 1914.

Sad and sudden was the call,
Our dear mother was loved by all.
Little did we think that on that day
Our dear mother would be called away.

Oh, for the touch of a loving hand,
The sound of a voice that is still,
To cheer the hearts of those that are sad, Submissive to His will.

Sadly missed by children, S. E. Butler, David King.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our dear angel mother, Mrs. Margaret Herdion, who departed this life on January 18, 1905, which seems just yesterday though ten long years have past in their flight. Oh, mamma, no one but God knows how we all have missed you for many things you are missed, but you can never return as God has claimed you for his own. Pleasant memories come in throngs and mine eyes are blurred with tears, but no glimpse of thee appears. Lonely am I in winter, lonely am I in spring. Summer and the harvest bring no trace of thee—but, oh, winter, art thou wandering, thou who didst once cleave to me. Your daughters, Mrs. Maude Baker, Mrs. Winnie E. Wagner, Mrs. Laura Colman, and Miss Mabel M. Herdion.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our beloved mother, Sarah E. Alexander, who departed this life January 21, 1914.

The moon and stars are shining
Upon a lonely grave.
Where sleeps our darling mother,
We loved so much, but could not save.

Heaven now retains our treasure,
Earth the barren casket keeps,
And the sunlight loves to linger,
Where our darling mother sleeps.

Sadly missed by her children,
E. Octavia Mahoney,
Wm. H. Alexander,
Lula A. Wilson.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my dear husband, Esau Dobbins, who departed this life 2 years ago, January 22, 1914.

Just beyond the river Jordan,
Just within the Golden Gate:
Growing in that Upper Garden,
For my coming watch and wait.

Sadly missed by wife, Mrs. Mamie Dobbins, and mother.

Many Player-Pianos

We found in 1913 that our future selling piano would be our player, and our president, Mr. T. H. Story, spent $150,000 making a tour of the world to find the latest and most improved patent players. From these inventors he obtained a player with the five motor attachment. This can be found, in St. Louis, only at the store of Story and Clark Piano Co., 1102 Olive St. This is the most improved instrument on the market today—is everything but human—and has had a tremendous sale. Among the colored people who have purchased the new style player during 1914 are the following:

Mrs. Wilkerson, 3302 S. Jefferson;
Mrs. Alexander, 4280 N. Market; Miss
Ruth Washington, 3306 Pine St.; Miss Rosetta Thompson, 4230 1/2 Cote Brillante; Mr. John Engelman, 2655 1/2
Bernard; Mr. Thomas Brown, 3504
Lawton; Miss Zenobia Shoulders, 4309 Garfield; Mrs. Beard, 2308 Chestnut; Mrs. Hollister, 4035 W. Belle;
Mr. Robert Chaffing, 1014 Pine (white).

We are also offering a line of upright pianos at prices which cannot be duplicated in St. Louis for the quality. If you cannot call at our store, phone or write me a card and I will call on you.

I WANT TO BENEFIT ONE THOUSAND MORE HOMES BEFORE I WITHDRAW MY OFFER—I WANT EVERY FAIR-MINDED WOMAN TO READ THE TRUTH.
WOMEN, WHAT ARE YOU DOING TO BETTER YOUR PRESENT CONDITIONS?

If the dark and gloomy days are hanging over your head let the Oxford System bring you joy and happiness to your home regardless of where you live.
The Majors Oxford System are making the little ones cheerful everywhere each day. This system always steps in just in time.

A mother was discharged, without a penny, and had no one to help her.
Around her there was a number of little ones to be cared for. She at once thought of what she had heard of the Majors Oxford College. Finally she acquired a newspaper, with an advertisement of the Majors Oxford College, which contained the address, 4246 West Belle Pl., St. Louis, Mo. She wrote for the free offer, how to grow hair and beautify the skin. Today no one can discourage her, she is earning from $15.00 to $25.00 per week. It looks impossible, but it is true.

I gladly furnish a testimony from the hundreds who I have:
Dear Sir:
I am more than delighted with my correspondent course, and only wish that all needy mothers and daughters could only see this opportunity.

I gave up my school to devote all my time to my customers.
My customers are carried away with results of your wonderful Oxford Treatments, and my own hair is growing

NEW MARCH AS A COMPLIMENT TO JAS. W. GRANT

The Big Band Concert for the Fur

lana-Tango, at the Coliseum, Monday evening, February 8, will open with a new march entitled, "The Old Cam paigner," specially written for and dedicated to his friend, Jas. W. Grant by Bandmaster William Blue. The composition opens with a trumpet fanfare, constructed by a brief sym phony into a brilliant melody. A continual fiery strain interweaves throughout the first part closes with a dominant pace, something unusual in march music. This part describes the various vicissitudes in the ups and downs of life. A trio, which follows with a war-like interruption, is led by the bass section. The composition closes with the Song of Triumph, sung with a grand union.

As a last caution to the experi enced cook let me say never substitute other material for that called for in these recipes, especially those that apply to the flour. Pastry Flour is superior to the "spring wheat" for all cakes and pastry that the small dif ference in price should not be con sidered. Granulated sugar must be fine grained, and be sure to note the difference in "powder and confection ery sugar"—the former is extremely fine grained and used in baking while the latter is smooth like starch and is best for icing, etc.—Washington Star.

Watch the Garbage Pail.

A careful survey of this receptacle indicates the part of the kitchen sup ply that is lost as refuse or as waste.

Poor cooking, unwarranted purchases and unwise planning contribute to this extravagance. The unnecessary waste should be eliminated by the use of good cook book and water plan ning as to the amounts needed and in dividual tastes.

Refrigerator Hint.

To avoid buying ice in winter, the refrigerator should be kept chilled by this plan. Set a pail of water out doors to become ice-cold. Put the pail in the ice compartment of the refrig erator. In case the water should freeze solid, place a small stick in it.

BOOKER WASHINGTON

Once more the vaudeville pendulum swings back to the high standard at the Booker Washington Theater, and another good show is the result. Some very classy talent is on the boards, and there is a snappy, gingerly action that keeps up a happy mood throughout, closes in a spasm of hilarity, and sends the patrons away well pleased. Three acts, all headliners, contribute to the fun.

BROWN & DUMONT open the bill with a neat, little comedy skit, which serves to introduce a very humorous burlesque tragedy on Joseph and the Roman Senator. Miss Brown is well costumed and is especially stunning in male garb. Her feature song number, "Let Me Love You All the Time," is a decided hit. "Topical Diddy," by Mr. Dumont, goes big. Both are good in their character work and win frequent applause. Their act is new, different from the ordinary, and seems to strike the popular chord just where it will vibrate the most.

HARPER H. PUGGSLEY comes next with an acrobatic tumbling and barrel jumping act. In the character of a clown, he mixes just enough comedy to add spice to his work. He does several difficult acrobatic stunts, a little dancing and a little less singing. His act is good and holds up its portion of the bill.

GLENN & BROGSDALE, two corked comedians, with a barrel of original jokes, new ideas and dances, close the bill. They serve a continuous stream of rapid fire, laugh-producing controversy and keep the house in an uproar. "I'm Sick," a travesty on the medical profession, is very humorous, more so, perhaps, because of the apparent earnestness of the two. In their closing number, "Darkie W. Buzz," with Glenn impersonating a female ragger, they are a scream. They succeed in extracting more boisterousness from the audience than any team that has been here this season.

THE ORCHESTRA is offering a special treat this week that is well worth the price of admission. The following musical program is making a big hit:

1. Overture, "The Sky Pilot."
2. Duet, Cornet and Trombone, "Moana Waltz."
3. J. Bryant and Steve Adams Xylophone Solo, "All That I Had is Gone."
4. The Cataract Rag.

H. Grannemann deserves credit for opening up good saloons in this city for colored people than any other man in the business. Mr. Grannemann is proprietor of "Plunger's Bar," at Compton and Pine. This is only one of four or five places he has owned and placed in charge of Negroes. Plunger's Bar is under the management of Geo. Franklin, who has an able assistant in Charlie Moss. It is a popular resort for a respectable treat, and the patrons are always treated courteously.

HARRISON STEWART PLAYERS
IN NEW ACT NEXT WEEK

"The White Wash Man" Presents Will Cooke in His Great Tramp Specialty. Booker Washington Theater goes to get to see Will A. Cooke, the greatest tramp comedian on the stage, in this celebrated character next week, beginning January 25. The Harrison Stewart Players will return and present their screamingly funny sketch entitled, "The White Wash Man." The following is the cast of characters:

Mrs. Wilson.....Jeanette Cooke
Pansy Wilson, her daughter.....Viola Stewart
Plenty Rags, a tramp.....Will A. Cooke
Sam Toles, the whitewash man.....Harrison Stewart

This ought to prove one of the season's biggest hits at Mr. Turpin's popular house. The members of the company are all stars and will have an excellent opportunity to display their talent in this piece.

Three other acts will contribute to the big show:

RANNIE WISE, the talented Red Moon singer, and BILLIE HENDERSON, in a classic act. Return of the favorite DUDE KELLY and AMON DAVIS in a new act of original construction. LENA HENDERSON, a spicy character comedienne. The Renfax apparatus for the singing and talking pictures is being installed and will be ready for exhibition in a few days.

JOHNSON AND WILLARD TO FIGHT AT JAUZRE, MARCH 6

Jack Johnson and Jess Willard will meet in a scheduled forty-five round bout for the heavyweight championship of the world at Jauzre, Mexico, Saturday, March 6, next. Final arrangements to this effect were made in this city January 8, after bids were received from Havana, Cuba, and Tia Juana, Mexico.

Johnson has been guaranteed $30,000 win, lose or draw, while Willard has been assured a minimum of $15,000 and may receive a much larger sum by sharing interest in the affair with Jack Curley, the chief promoter and his associates.

Strangely fascinating are the words that come from the cultivated lips of this most been full of adventures, and all the re-separates the human body from the gether, foes are made friends, lost property is recovered, the mist is brushed away from business ventures, the hand is so guided that failures are averted, the earth's surface is explored, its treasures laid bare to the searcher, the mind is cleared, and while he gives names, dates, facts and figures, his vision sits down, founded at the revelations he makes to him. He is surely a man of the passing time.

GLADSTONE is not a clairvoyant from choice, but because fate has so decreed it. His ancestors were powerful mediums and have for ages handed down their wonderful power of gift from generation to generation. So he has received the rich inheritance together with the combined knowledge and precious experience of generations. No matter what your present trouble may be, or what your past experience has been, you will save time and avoid disappointment by at once consulting Gladstone.

NOTE--Gladstone answers no letters if you cannot call in person, do not write, as his time is fully occupied with his personal callers.
